Government Law Section

of the State Bar of Texas

May 18, 2017

The Government Law Section of the State Bar of Texas is excited to announce the launch of our redesigned website. In addition to general public access, it offers members-only services such as our monthly article and E-blast archive with case summary updates.

In order to access the new and improved site, just click here. To log-in to the members-only section, your username is your email address filed with the State Bar and your password is your Texas State Bar number. It's that simple.

Also, don't forget to rejoin the section so you don't lose access to these new benefits! If you are thinking about joining the section, now is a perfect time. There are three easy ways to gain access to membership: 1) by including the section dues with your dues payment; 2) via your My Bar Page here; or 3) you can download a section membership application from our website and join by mail.
